

Experienced Couple and Family counsellors

Relate London SW is seeking experienced counsellors to work with couples and/or families at various locations across SW London. Experienced candidates can begin working for Relate without additional training if their qualifications meet the Relate Assessment of Prior Experience and Learning (APEL) requirements. Applicants will receive further information about our APEL scheme.

Eligible candidates should ideally have 5+ years counselling experience and, either experience of working with couples and/or families, or a qualification which equips you to do so.

Successful candidates will be available to work a minimum of 6 hours during our peak times (ie: evenings and/or Saturdays). Total number of hours is negotiable dependent on applicants availability and flexibility to work at our busiest times/locations.

The ability to deliver online, telephone or webcam counselling would be an advantage, but is not essential. Home based work may be considered.

Our counsellors receive high quality, monthly individual and group supervision, support of a dedicated appointments administration team, in-house CPD training, access to the Relate, national practice helpline for emergency consultation on practice issues and an opportunity to be a part of Relate's vision of a future in which healthy relationships are actively promoted as the basis of a thriving society.

Salary: £14.70ph daytime rate and £18.92 evening/Saturday rate.

To apply please request an application pack from: Donna Clarke, Service Manager, Relate London SW, donnae@relatelondonsw.org or call 01302 380932.

Closing date: Initially 14 July 2017 (may be extended).

www.relatelondonsw.org