Fancy helping us run Shared Reading groups?

We run weekly get-togethers that are open to all. We share great stories and poems, read aloud, and have a chat about them. Everyone's welcome, and there's no pressure to get involved – it's okay to come along just to listen.

We're looking for volunteers to lead our new groups in Hammersmith and Fulham. The role of the volunteer is to make everyone feel comfortable in the room, and help others feel empowered to talk about reading.
