Save energy, save money

As energy prices bite, we want to help residents make their homes more comfortable and affordable to run. This is especially important for our most vulnerable residents who may spend more time at home.

Making your home more energy efficient doesn't just save money – it creates a healthier living environment and helps tackle climate change.

Expert advice and support

Our advisors provide personalised support to help you understand your energy use and find ways to reduce bills. They can help you apply for grants to fund bigger improvements like heat pumps and insulation.

Free home energy visits

Our experts will visit your home to assess your energy use and install free equipment including:

- LED light bulbs that last 10 times longer
- Draught-proofing for doors, windows and letterboxes
- Radiator foils to reflect more heat
- Pipe insulation to prevent heat loss.

Who can get help?

You can access our free service if your household has:

- Someone over 60 or under 10
- A Disabled person
- Someone with a long-term health condition
- A pregnant person
- Household income below £36,000
- High energy costs compared to income.
